

Changes to ongoing fees and costs

The information in this Changes to ongoing fees and costs factsheet relates to the Super Savings – Corporate PricewaterhouseCoopers Employees Superannuation Plan. The information in this factsheet is only applicable to that product and members who hold that product. It should be read in conjunction with the Australian Retirement Trust Product update July 2022 available at portal.australianretirementtrust.com.au/pwcsuper

Administration Fee Changes

Super Savings – Corporate Accumulation account

The Product Update outlines that from 1 July 2022, we're reducing the dollar based administration fee for Super Savings members' accounts to $1.20 per week. We've already been applying a reduced dollar based administration fee of $1.00 per week to your account and this will continue to apply.

Super Savings Transition to retirement income account and Super Savings Retirement income accounts

From 1 July 2022, the dollar based administration fee for these accounts will reduce by 30 cents per week from $1.50 to $1.20 per week.

Note that the administration fees and costs disclosed in our Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) will be higher, as shown on the following page. Investment fees and costs and transaction costs will also continue to apply depending on your investment options chosen.

Making fees and costs easier to understand

From 30 September 2022, changes to meet new government regulations will require super funds to change the way they disclose fees and costs in their Product Disclosure Statement/s. The changes are designed to improve the consistency of disclosure and comparability of fees and costs between superannuation funds.

Australian Retirement Trust has decided to commence this disclosure effective from 1 July 2022.

What are the changes?

Fees and costs disclosure will be simplified and consolidated into three groups – Administration fees and costs, Investment fees and costs, and Transaction costs. These fees and costs groups will be used to calculate a single 'Cost of Product' and simplify how we present the fees and costs in member statements (Annual and Exit Statements). In addition, amounts used from the Fund reserves to meet expenses which exceed the amounts credited to the reserve in the previous financial year will be disclosed. So, administration fees and costs disclosure includes both the administration fees deducted from your account, and additional amounts from General reserves used to cover the costs of managing accounts.

Administration fee example

Paul has a Super Savings – Corporate Accumulation account balance of $50,000, invested in the default MySuper investment option; Lifecycle Investment Strategy. During the year he has no further contributions to his account.

As can be seen, Paul will see higher administration fees and costs disclosed but will have the same amount deducted from his account or paid by his employer. Note that this example is for illustrative purposes and only includes administration fees and costs. Additional fees and costs will apply.
