

Important changes to your Defined Benefit

We're pleased that Australian Retirement Trust has been selected as the merger partner for Commonwealth Bank Group Super ("Group Super").

Australian Retirement Trust is one of Australia's largest super funds. 2.2 million Australians trust us to take care of over $240 billion of their retirement savings. We're here to help our members retire well with confidence, focused on strong long-term investment returns, low fees and the information and access to advice our members need to manage their super and retirement.

Australian Retirement Trust was formed through the merger of QSuper and Sunsuper in February 2022. We're focused on:

Your Defined Benefits provider is changing

Your account will move from Commonwealth Bank Group Super (“Group Super”) to the new CBA Group Super Plan with Australian Retirement Trust, and we will open a Super Savings Corporate account for you. This is planned to occur on 4 November 2023 via a Successor Fund Transfer (SFT).

A SFT is a transfer of member benefits from one super fund to another. Under superannuation regulations, it’s a key requirement that we provide you with at least equivalent rights (although not necessarily identical) to those currently provided to you in Group Super.

Your current Group Super Defined Benefit account will close following the transfer to us. There are no forms or paperwork required to make this transfer happen. It's important to note that Australian Retirement Trust will rely on membership data supplied by Group Super, as applicable, to establish your account with Australian Retirement Trust at the transfer date.

Your Defined Benefits entitlement calculation will remain unchanged

You'll continue to be provided with the same Defined Benefit entitlement you currently have in Group Super.

Your transition email/letter from Australian Retirement Trust will confirm your Defined Benefit division and you will be able to review the benefit applicable in the Super Savings – Corporate Product Disclosure Statement for Defined Benefit Savings Account CBA Group Super Plan applicable to your division,¹ at art.com.au/cbasp

Any contribution arrangements you have in place with the Commonwealth Bank of Australia (ABN 48 123 123 124, AFSL 234945) (CBA) or an entity within the CBA group of companies, including BWA Group Services Pty Limited (ABN 88 111 209 440) (BWAGS) (CBA Group) payroll will be carried across to your new CBA Group Super Plan account with Australian Retirement Trust, from 4 November 2023.

Your Defined Benefit does not have insurance cover but does have Death/Disability Benefits that continue to apply. You may have additional insurance cover under an Accumulate Plus account with Group Super. If this applies to you, you will receive a separate communication and link to the Transfer Guide relevant to your other account.

Do you have any offset accounts?

Any Surcharge or Offset accounts you currently have in Group Super will form a single Offset account at Australian Retirement Trust. This will be invested in the Balanced investment option. You cannot change how this is invested.

¹The Super Savings – Corporate Product Disclosure Statement for Defined Benefit Account CBA Group Super Plan applicable to your division, will be available closer to plan start date (for information only purposes until the Plan starts on 4 November 2023) at art.com.au/cbasp or by calling 1800 572 153.

What happens if leave the CBA Group?

If you leave your employment prior to the transfer to Australian Retirement Trust and Group Super are unable to finalise a payment before the transfer, we'll action the transfer and let you know your options once your Defined Benefit account has been opened with us.

If you leave your employment or leave the plan for any reason after the transfer to Australian Retirement Trust, we'll crystallise (calculate) your benefit and let you know your options once we receive final payroll information from the CBA Group.

Do you currently have another account in Group Super?

Under certain circumstances you may also have an Accumulate Plus, Retirement Access Transition to Retirement Income Stream (TRIS) or Retirement Access Account-Based pension account with Group Super, these accounts will also transfer to Australian Retirement Trust on 4 November 2023. If this applies to you, you will receive a separate communication and link to the Transfer Guide relevant to your other account.

It's important to note that Defined Benefit Lifetime Pensions will not transfer to Australian Retirement Trust on 4 November 2023 and are expected to transfer to Australian Retirement Trust in the first half of 2024.

Some temporary interruptions to services

You will experience some service and processing interruptions prior to, and after, the transfer date. This is called a 'limited service period'.

The below timeline outlines what these services are and when to expect interruptions.

Date	Service
3pm 25 October 2023	Limited service period commences (a period when processing of limited transactions will occur). Online, phone or paper based transactions must be received by Group Super by 3pm. Group Super Online and the App moves to read only from 3pm. This means you will not be able to modify or update your details or make online transactions. You will be able to view your account details and download copies of your statements that are on Group Super Online.
3pm 25 October 2023	Cut-off date for any investment switches in Group Super prior to the transfer date.
4 November 2023	Transfer date.
Early November	Processing of transactions re-commences.
Early/Mid November	You'll receive your Welcome email from Australian Retirement Trust which contains your new member number and instructions on how to access your account online via Member Online.
Mid-November	You'll receive your Welcome letter, plus a separate letter confirming your Defined Benefit account, which you'll be able to access via your Member Online account.

Your fees

Fees and costs of providing your Defined Benefit are paid by your employer and do not impact your benefit.

A portion of the administration fees and costs are paid from the Fund's reserves, being 0.07%, which for a $50,000 account balance is $35 of fees that will not be deducted from your account.

Your investments

When your account moves from Group Super to the CBA Group Super Plan with Australian Retirement Trust on 4 November 2023, your Defined Benefit account will be invested in the Balanced option.

How your Defined Benefit account will be invested

Your employer bears most of the investment risk on the assets supporting the Defined Benefit portion of your benefit. The Trustee, in consultation with CBA Group and the Plan Actuary decides on the investment of the assets that support your Defined Benefit entitlements. Investment returns don't generally affect the amount of the Defined Benefit you're entitled to receive. For more information, please refer to the Super Savings – Corporate Product Disclosure Statement for Defined Benefit Account CBA Group Super Plan applicable to your division,¹ at art.com.au/cbasp

However, if you have an accumulation-style benefit or account or any deferred or post-employment benefits retained in your Defined Benefit, Group Super currently uses a crediting rate to calculate investment performance returns for these certain benefits or accounts calculations. Australian Retirement Trust will express these investment returns as a daily unit price of the Balanced option. This daily unit price will be used to calculate the value of these benefits or accounts in your Defined Benefits.

Any contributions you make in relation to your Defined Benefit will be invested in this option. You cannot change how this is invested.

What actions you need to take

There are a few important actions you may need to take because of this change.

Before the transfer

✓ Are your details up to date?

Check and update your details with Group Super by 3pm on 25 October 2023. Log in at oursuperfund.com.au or call 1800 023 928 between 8am and 7pm (AEST/AEDT) Monday to Friday, or +61 3 8306 0977 if you are calling from overseas. It's important that you provide your email address and mobile number to ensure Australian Retirement Trust can contact you about the transition and for future correspondence.

✓ Contact Group Super if you don't wish to transition to Australian Retirement Trust

Following the completion of the transition to Australian Retirement Trust, Group Super will close.

All Defined Benefit members of Group Super will transition to the CBA Group Super Plan with Australian Retirement Trust. To retain your ongoing defined benefits, you must remain in the CBA Group Super Plan, with Australian Retirement Trust.

If you don't wish to transition to Australian Retirement Trust, you should contact Group Super for further information on 1800 023 928 between 8am and 7pm (AEST/AEDT) Monday to Friday by 3pm on 25 October 2023. We strongly encourage you to speak with your financial adviser before making any decision to opt out of the transfer.

After the transfer

✓ Review your beneficiaries

Your beneficiaries will be carried across as follows:

Group Super	Australian Retirement Trust
Non-lapsing ¹	Preferred ²
Binding ³	Preferred
Preferred	Preferred

After the 4 November 2023 (and once you receive your member number in the Welcome email), if you'd like to change your Preferred beneficiary nomination, you can do this via Member Online or our app. You can also use the Change of Details form. You can make a binding beneficiary nomination (you have control over who the Trustee will pay your death benefit to) by completing the Binding Death Benefit Nomination form. Both forms are available at art.com.au/forms

¹Australian Retirement Trust doesn't offer non-lapsing nominations. ²Will only be used as a guide and ultimately the Trustee of Australian Retirement Trust will decide how to pay your death benefits. ³You have control over who the Trustee will pay your death benefits to.

✓ Renew your third-party authority or Power of Attorney

If you have previously authorised another person (e.g. your spouse, financial planner or solicitor) to act on your behalf in relation to your benefits in Group Super, that authority will lapse from the transfer date. To continue this arrangement, you'll need to complete the Third Party Authorisation form in Member Online once you receive your member number in the Welcome email.

✓ Provide your email address and mobile number

It's important that you provide us with your email address and mobile number, if you haven't already. You can do this via Member Online. Your mobile number will allow us to identify you and contact you to discuss your membership and any questions you may have. We recommend you use your personal email (not a work email address), so we can still get in touch with you if you change jobs. In order to access Member Online, the email address linked to your account needs to be unique and not shared with another person.

✓ Consider your communication preferences

If you have elected to receive communication from Group Super via post, this preference will not carry across to Australian Retirement Trust. We provide most of your important documents digitally, unless you request otherwise. You can change your preferences (to print) and contact details in Member Online, and request hardcopies at no additional cost by contacting us.

We're here to help

If you have any questions about the transition, please email groupsuper_transitions@art.com.au or give us a call on 1800 572 153, between 8:00am to 7:30pm AEST/AEDT, Monday to Friday.
