

What happens to your super when you leave your employer?

13 11 84 australianretirementtrust.com.au

If you're a member of the DXC Technology Superannuation Plan with Australian Retirement Trust and you stop working for your employer, we'll transfer you to a Super Savings Accumulation account. Here's what that means:

What's not changing

Your:

- member number
- investment choice(s)
- beneficiary(s), and
- online account (Member Online and the ART app) won't change.

What's changing

Your insurance is changing. From the date you leave your employer:

- Any Death and Total & Permanent Disability (TPD) insurance you have will continue as Tailored fixed cover (if you have $6,000 or more in your super account). "Fixed cover" means the amount of insurance stays the same, but your premiums will generally increase as you get older.
- Any Income Protection cover you have will end. If you start a new job within 60 days of leaving your employer, you may be able to re-start your cover without filling out a personal health statement.
- Any insurance premiums that were paid by your employer will be deducted from your super account.
- You won't receive discounted administration fees, but you'll still enjoy being part of a profit for members fund, committed to returning profits as lower fees and better services.

Already have an ART Super Savings account?

- If you have Death and/or Total & Permanent Disability or TPD Assist cover in your existing Super Savings account, and:
 - if the cover in your DXC Technology Superannuation Plan at the date you stopped working was higher than that amount, your Super Savings cover will be replaced by the higher amount;
 - otherwise, your cover will not change.

Your account balance from the DXC Technology Superannuation Plan will be transferred with the investment choice that applied in that plan at the transfer date. Any future contributions to your consolidated account will be invested in line with your existing Super Savings account investment choice.

What happens if I don't tell my new employer to pay my super to ART?

You could lose your insurance

If you don't contribute to your Super Savings account for 12 months, your insurance cover will be cancelled unless you tell us you'd like to keep it. You can choose to 'Keep your insurance cover' in Member Online by selecting 'Your account' and then 'Insurance'.

You could end up paying multiple sets of fees

Choosing where you'd like your new employer to pay your super also helps you avoid potentially paying multiple sets of fees and having more insurance than you need.

Your super may be paid to a fund that you wouldn't choose

Although new government rules designed to limit the creation of unnecessary super accounts mean your employer needs to pay your super to your existing super fund, recorded by the ATO (your 'stapled' fund), this system isn't perfect. The ATO's records may not be up to date. The closure of your Super Savings – Corporate account may mean the ATO doesn't recognise ART as your stapled fund. That's why it's important that if you'd like to keep your super with us, you choose to 'Keep your insurance cover' in Member Online.
