What do we mean by certified?

We understand you'll want to provide us with copies of your ID documents, rather than the originals. That's fine, but you must have them 'certified' within the last 12 months. This means the certifier must:

- Sight the original and the copy to make sure both documents are identical, and
- Write or stamp 'certified true copy of original document' on each page, and
- Sign and print their name, qualification (e.g. Justice of the Peace, Australia Post employee), and the date on each page of the document.

How your proof of identity document should look. (See example above right.)

- 'Certified true copy' written or stamped and signature of authorised person.
- Authorised person's stamp and registration number (if applicable).
- Name, qualification and phone number of authorised person.
- Date of authorisation that is no more than 12 months old.

Your benefit claim cannot be processed if the person certifying the documents doesn't provide the required information.

Who can certify your ID if you live overseas?

If your benefit claim is submitted from outside Australia, we can only accept certified ID that are signed by one of the following people:

- Police officer of an overseas force.
- A Notary public.
- Judge of a court in an overseas jurisdiction.
- Magistrate in an overseas jurisdiction.
- An Australian consular officer or an Australian diplomatic officer (within the meaning of the Consular Fees Act 1955).

We also require evidence of the certifier's status. Examples of what is acceptable include:

- Police Officer: Details of their police badge number.
- Judge or Magistrate: Certificate of their appointment to their position.

For a full list of who can certify, including overseas certifiers, please visit art.com.au/id for more information.

Have you recently changed your name?

If you have changed your name and you have not previously let us know you will need to provide a certified copy of your marriage certificate, deed poll or change of name certificate, decree nisi or other document satisfactory to us.

Important notes on identification:

- We can't accept documents which have expired. If an expired document is received, we'll not be able to process your claim until suitable identification has been provided.
- If you're providing a document that is not in English, you'll also need to provide an English translation prepared by an accredited translator. For further information on this, please call us on 13 11 84 or +61 7 3516 1009 (if overseas).
- If signing on behalf of the member, certified copies of Guardianship papers or proof of Power of Attorney are required.

Providing your Tax File Number (TFN)

Under the Superannuation Industry (Supervision) Act 1993, your superannuation fund is authorised to collect your TFN, which will only be used for lawful purposes. These purposes may change in the future as a result of legislative change. The trustee of your superannuation fund may disclose your TFN to another superannuation provider, when your benefits are being transferred, unless you request the trustee of your Superannuation fund in writing that your TFN is not to be disclosed to any other superannuation provider. However giving your TFN to your superannuation fund will have the following advantages (which may not otherwise apply):

- Your superannuation fund will be able to accept all types of contributions to your account/s.
- The tax on contributions to your superannuation account/s will not increase.
- Other than the tax that may ordinarily apply, no additional tax will be deducted when you start drawing down your superannuation benefits; and
- It will make it much easier to trace different superannuation accounts in your name so that you'll receive all your superannuation benefits when you retire.

What if I don't claim within six months?

If you do not claim your super within six months of leaving Australia, or within six months of the cancellation or expiry of your visa if later, the ATO will instruct us to transfer your balance to the ATO. If this occurs, you should claim your super money from the ATO. As Australian Retirement Trust adopts the ASIC class order relief that provides disclosure exemption for former temporary residents, information regarding the transfer of a member's benefits and significant event notices may not be provided to a member whose benefit has been transferred. If you are applying to the ATO to claim your benefit and require information about the transfer, please contact us. For more information on accessing your benefit when you leave Australia, please call the ATO superannuation line on 13 10 20 (within Australia) or email DASPMail@ato.gov.au (outside Australia).

We may also contact you by telephone to confirm the details of this transfer request. Our information requirements for these payments reflect the unique regulations and risks pertaining to SMSFs as well as the Australian Retirement Trust Trustee's obligation to ensure that transfers to these funds are compliant.

Warning – illegal early release schemes Superannuation scams or early release schemes which offer to give you early access to your superannuation, often through a self-managed super fund and/or for a fee, are illegal. You cannot legally have access to the 'preserved' part of your super until you reach your 'preservation' age (ranging from 55 to 60 years of age, depending on when you were born) or meet a condition of release, such as compassionate grounds. If you do access your super early for an illegal reason, you may be subject to legal action and heavy penalties (including tax). If you receive one of these offers or want independent advice, please contact us or the ATO and report that you have been approached by an early release scheme.

2 Claiming a tax deduction

If you're aged over 67, you'll need to meet the Work Test¹ in order to claim a tax deduction on voluntary after-tax contributions. This eligibility requirement will be assessed by the Australian Taxation Office (ATO) when you submit your income tax return. The contribution you're claiming a tax deduction on must have been received by Australian Retirement Trust prior to the 28th day after the end of the month you turned 75 years old.

Do you intend to claim a tax deduction?

YES If Yes, and you intend to claim a tax deduction for contributions you paid to Australian Retirement Trust, you will need to let us know using the online form in Member Online before submitting this form or complete a Notice of Intent to Claim a Tax Deduction form from ato.gov.au to submit with this withdrawal request. Please also indicate the relevant financial year here:

Relevant Financial Year (YYYY/YYYY)

NO If No, go to Section 3

Please note: If you intend to claim a tax deduction for voluntary after-tax contributions paid to your Super Savings account, it's important you let us know BEFORE we make your payment. If you close your account, income tax laws don't allow us to complete any future requests for tax deductions. If you make a partial withdrawal or transfer, the maximum amount you can later claim a tax deduction for is the reduced contribution amount remaining with us. If you intend to claim a tax deduction, you can let us know by completing the online form in Member Online or send us a completed Notice of Intent to Claim a Tax Deduction form from ato.gov.au and we'll send you confirmation to include with your tax return.

¹ You must work at least 40 hours over a period of 30 consecutive days, during the income year the contributions were made (or during the previous financial year, under a one-off exemption available to members with a 'total superannuation balance' under $300,000).

Under current legislation we require your overseas residential address.
